Message

I survived the collapse of the Polish system.
I survived the collapse of the dominant power.

I observe other collapses around the world.

I see patterns & draw conclusions.

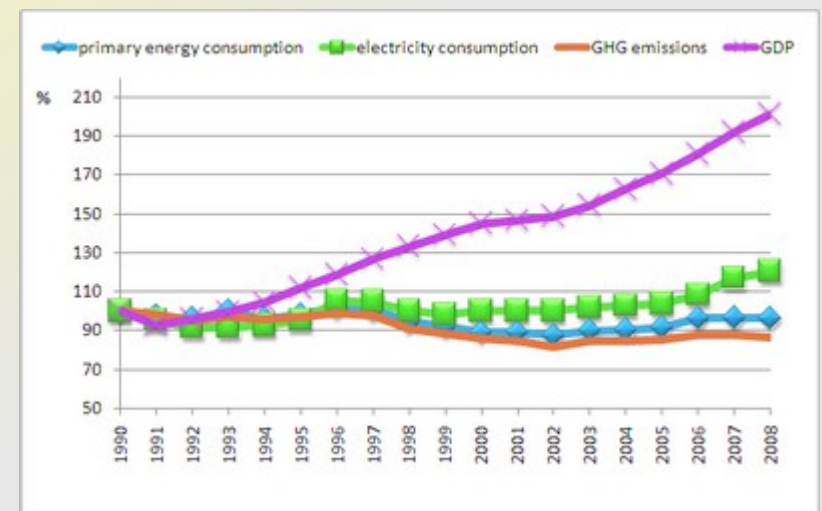

Libertarians are making me aware...

People in power - how they behave?

Is their behaviour universal?

Collapse of Poland

Since 1991 Polish GDP is rising
Within 10 years, cars & dishwashers
ceased to be luxury goods

Collapse of the USSR

Even the eternal Soviet Union broke down because of food shortages

James Madison's dilemma

When creating a government that gives one the power over another, there are two main problems: what kind of power and how much the government should have to be able to fairly run and control the society, and what kind of power and how much for the society to have a means of control over those in power to stop them abusing their position.

If men were angels, no government would be necessary. If angels were to govern men, neither external nor internal controls on government would be necessary. In framing a government which is to be administered by men over men, the great difficulty lies in this: you must first enable the government to control the governed; and in the next place oblige it to control itself. A dependence on the people is, no doubt, the primary control on the government; but experience has taught mankind the necessity of auxiliary precautions.

James Madison (1751-1836)

Conclusions

- I. Collapses are the direct result of social systems
- II. Social systems are created by the people who have power
- III. The methods used by those in power have not changed throughout history

Methods I

- 1. Compulsion – they tax your belongings & ultimately, they can force you to devote your life for them
- 2. Inflation of money – only they can produce money, anybody else is a criminal
- 3. Private law – general laws applicable only to those not in power
- 4. Creation of the privileged – the group with more rights and less responsibility, so called “ours”.
- 5. State business – places of salary for “ours”, siphon public money for personal use and production of self-confessed savants.
Samuel Pepys (1633-1703) English naval administrator acknowledged that he didn't touch his work for a couple of months because of a multitude of other things and pleasures. A top official who was nothing more than a drunkard and a womanizer

Methods II

6. Pampering supporters – with privileges, functions, titles, subventions, special rights,...

Methods III

7. Production of supporters – state CEO, state professors, state dependent media, huge salaries & pensions

Methods IV

8. Propaganda – lies, manipulation, silences, false authorities

9. Education – mainly they teach about our victories, never about the origins of losses, facts manipulation

10. Permissions - What is not forbidden is allowed, now the number of concessions reaches 600

11. Surveillance – Big brother society, rise of SPO's,

12. Searching for enemies – internally and externally, enemies can be physical and metaphysical

Neverending Russian Doll of Power

13. Chain of controllers

All this leads to the unique result

Economic collapse

Some quotes

All power tends to corrupt; Absolute power corrupts absolutely

- Lord Acton (1834-1902)

Self-preservation and self-denial, the basis of all political economy

- Lord Acton

When plunder becomes a way of life for a group of men living together in society, they create for themselves, in the course of time, a legal system that authorizes it and a moral code that glorifies it

Frederic Bastiat

(1801-1850) 15

The inevitable

No freedom, no production

Those in power tend to overlimit freedom, and this overlimitation constantly increases until the economic collapse

The inevitable?

It is the main task of libertarians
to enlighten all people

Especially those in power

The future?
